

Dear Parents

It is hard to believe that we are half way through Term Two already. The children are well and truly into their units of work and have completed many activities to build their knowledge and skills about a variety of interesting topics.

On a recent visit to one of the classes we had a discussion on the terminology 'Learning Intent' and 'Success Criteria'. I represented learning as a winding road which at the summit had the learning intent. Another way this can be explained is the road to achieving a learning goal and is often associated with what we want to know, understand or do. Examples of a learning intent could be; to be able to write a recount, know how energy works or to understand how the internet can assist research. I explained to the children that along the road there are flags which indicate the success criteria. These indicators tell us how we are going in the achieving of the learning goal such as, if we are to write a recount we must be able to write an introduction, use time sequence words and sequence events accurately. You may have noticed that the teachers are using learning intents and success criteria for many of their lessons across the Key Learning Areas. These are displayed in the classroom and children are made aware of the goal during the lesson. The use of these tools helps the students to focus and assess if they are achieving success.

Another concept explored during my visit was the image that the road never ends, in other words learning never ceases even when we are older. Helping children to be life-long learners is a great attitude to develop. Looking at our learning heroes – people that we admire for their interest in learning is another strategy to encourage a good learning attitude. In his work in 'Teaching Values for Life' writer David Koutsoukis lists some key points to encourage children to become life-long learners. They are as follows;

- Be positive about learning
- Seek knowledge about self, others and the world around us
- Recognize the value of knowledge
- Have an enquiring mind – be curious
- Determine how we learn best
- Have an open mind
- Be a critical thinker
- Have a global perspective
- Seek learning opportunities everywhere
- Keep learning
- Read every day
- Read non fiction as well as fiction
- Buy lots of books and start your own book collection at home (this can be digital as well)
- Ask lots of questions
- Look up answers to questions or solutions to problems on the internet
- Find learning heroes
- Read newspapers
- Watch documentaries
- Keep a learning journal – 'what I have learned today is

God Bless you and your family

ST PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL JUNIOR YOUTH GROUP

Last week the boys and girls in Years 5 and 6 received an invitation from Father Andrew Bass to attend a Junior Youth Group.

As made explicit in the letter handed out, this is a Parish organized program so thus staff will not be supervising the children. The school does however encourage any parent who can spare some time to assist Father Andrew with the supervision of the children down at the cathedral. Children will be expected to display their very best behaviour and to remember that this expectation will be monitored and communicated with Father regularly.

DIOCESAN WORKS FUND APPEAL (DWF)- MAY 2014

On Monday, 19th May each family received a gift envelope for the Diocesan Funds Work Appeal. The Diocesan Works Fund Appeal gives us the opportunity to act together as one Church family to support ministries and services that no single parish or school can offer. It is Faith at Work! Every gift, regardless of the size, is vital to the success of the Diocesan Works Fund .

Please read the story of one of the many ways funds generated from this appeal supports services and ministries. The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine (CCD) provides Special Religious Educators (catechists) in Government schools with training programs, personal support and ongoing faith formation and education. At the parish level, the CCD provides the service of evangelisation through the religious education and pastoral care of Catholic students attending State Schools.

2014 SCHOOL FEES

If you are experiencing difficulty in making fee payments, please contact Mrs Nutter.

Tim is a 19 year old university student. He enjoyed a close relationship with his own grandfather who passed away two years ago and always encouraged him to "better himself". Tim decided to look into the Blacktown Neighbour Aid and became a friend to Norman. Norman is a 70 year old widower, who lives alone.

Although he has a daughter, her work and young family mean he sees her rarely, so Norman looks forward to his fortnightly visit and cup of tea with Tim.

"It's wonderful that he visits me. It gives me companionship" says Norman.

"We enjoy each other's company" says Tim and "It gives me a really good feeling, I think my grandfather would be proud".

Blacktown Neighbour Aid is run by CatholicCare Social Services and has existed for around 20 years. They currently have around 70 clients and 30 volunteers but they would like to double their client base and triple their volunteers.

Your gift to the Diocesan Works Fund will make a difference to the life of Norman and thousands more who participate in the programs and services offered by the Church's social outreach agency, CatholicCare Social Services. It is faith at Work!

Please show you care with a gift to the Diocesan Works Fund.

CatholicCare makes a critical difference in the lives of tens of thousands of women, men and children across Western Sydney through practical and compassionate support to the elderly, unemployed, bereaved, homeless, people living with disabilities and mental illness, young people and families in crises. Donate via the gift envelope or on line via www.parra.catholic.org.au
